

Candidate for Councillor At Large
Randall LeBlanc

1. Please tell us about yourself and why you are running for office.

My name is Randy LeBlanc, and I'm honored to serve as one of your six City Councillors-at-Large. My wife, Tiffany, and I are raising our three children—Ava, Nina, and Oscar—right here in Waltham because this is truly a great place to live and raise a family.

I love our city and have worked hard every day to make it even better for our families, seniors, and future generations. I'm running for re-election to continue strengthening our neighborhoods, supporting local businesses, and ensuring Waltham remains a community we can all be proud of.

2. What are the two most important issues in Waltham, and how will you address those issues if you are elected to City Council?

2)a. One of the two most pressing issues in Waltham is the need for long-term planning around our aging infrastructure. As new development and affordable housing continues throughout the city, we must ensure that our roads, water systems, and public facilities are upgraded to meet modern standards. This requires thoughtful coordination and responsible budgeting to balance new growth with the maintenance and modernization of our existing city without putting unnecessary strain on taxpayers.

2)b. Another big challenge is balancing fiscal responsibility with the need to keep our city services strong and housing affordable. With state and federal funding levels changing and real estate values shifting, we need to be careful stewards of our budget so we can maintain great services without putting extra pressure on taxpayers.
